My kids have attended Warrior Way for over 3 years and it's great! The staff works hard not just to teach the kids self defense but self-confidence and leadership skills. They are friendly, knowledgeable, and patient with the kids, too.

Professional friendly service. Always they are amazing with all the kids, they are patient and helping to build self confidence in all the kids

I started at warrior way when I was 36 years old. I had no former training and I weighed in at close to 300 pounds. In the last couple of years I have found all of the instructors and other members very encouraging and friendly. I now weigh in around 200 pounds and it has really changed my life.

I also have both of my sons enrolled and they are now excelling at many other sports because of their background in the martial arts.

Harvey, Angelo, Brandon, Josh, Brian, Mark and Matee along with the other helpers are amazing. Come check it out and I am sure you will agree.

Top notch gym with top notch people.

Warrior way is impressive, they have a elite staff with a professional and friendly attitude.

An excellent place to train with an excellent environment.

Posted by: Sandra K., 8/12/2009

Instructors are friendly and extremely knowledgeable. They inspire the kids to learn. My kids are learning mixed martial arts at Warrior Way and have attended the school for five years. Even after five years, they continue to learn more every day. It's an added bonus that the cost of enrollment is reasonable considering the number of classes the kids can potentially attend per week.

Warrior way has made a serrious impact on my life. The training has changed not only my body, but the way i see myself and others. Everything in this school is done with respect and class. The amazing instructors, Quality facility, welcoming atmosphere, and sense of comunity make Warrior Way a school in a class of its own here in Michigan.

Warrior Way has THE absolute best muay Thai instructor in Michigan, Matee Jedeeptak. If you want to learn muay Thai at it's best, then make it a priority to train with him.

Posted by: Ceri F., 8/8/2009

Warrior Way has the best instructors, serious students and a great environment to train. Matee the Muay Thai instructor is one of the best Muay Thai fighters with over 200 professional fights. They welcome all students young and old, ones looking to fight or to develop fitness.

knowledgeable instructors, more than just muay thai and BJJ

Posted by: Jame R., 8/7/2009 really friendly people and great instructors. They make it alot of fun for the kids.

Posted by: Rockma U., 8/6/2009

I recommend WWMA for the friendly & well-experienced instructors, the moderate-sized facility, the other students who train, & the overall health & well being you get from training there!!!

Posted by: Jack R., 8/4/2009

I recommend The Warrior Way because the owner, Harvey, was gracious in leading a self defense presentation to our co-ed soft ball team. He was a knowledgable, interesting and exciting presenter to our team with an age range from 20 to 63 years old.

Posted by: judoblackbelt, 8/4/2009

Warriorway has been in leading teacher of BJJ ground skills beginning with Royce Gracie in the early 1990(s). And has progressed to Thai Kick boxing, MMA of the 2000(s). The owner, HARvey Berman is dedicated to teaching the skills the "old fashion" way thru discipline, dedication in training. He provides the very best instructors and venue.

The best without a doubt. No big ego, shaved head, Ultimate Fighter wanna-be punks. Top level instructors who want you to learn and get better. Great laid back atmosphere.

Posted by: Claudia N., 8/3/2009

My son has been a student for three years and the dedication and commitment of every single instructor is admirable. My son has grown in confidence, discipline and his sense of responsibility.

Posted by: jody b., 8/3/2009

the instructors at w.w. don't try to intimidate...their goal is to teach using the approach of safety and respect. New students who join feel the positive energy and kinship right away.

Posted by: dbrown67, 8/1/2009

Great atmosphere for newcomers. Confident instructors lead by example setting a tone for a respectful yet relaxed learning environment. Their style of BJJ is direct and practical for those looking to learn self defense and get fit.

Simply said, Warrior Way has the best instructors (in both Brazilian Jiu Jitsu and Muay Thai) and the best training facility in the State of Michigan.

Posted by: Renji517, 7/30/2009

Relaxed environment with MANY experienced fighters to learn from. THE BEST AROUND!

Posted by: leostriker, 7/30/2009

Hands down the best for MMA training. They have the most black belt jujitsu instructors in MI and Matee (dragonleg) Jedeeptak, an amazing muay thai instructor with over 200 fights. Very friendly teachers and students. Leave your ego at the door and learn something.

Posted by: kongzie1, 7/30/2009

I trained at warrior way for 3 years with the ladies' class and I loved every minute of it! I miss it very much. The teachers are EXTREMELY helpful and ease any frustrations and resolve any complications you may be having. Warrior way rocks!!!

The expert instruction and well-qualified teachers makes Warrior Way the premier martial arts gym. With Muay Thai, Brazilian Jiu Jitsu, Core training, and fabulous kids' classes, this is the ONLY place to train MA in Metro Detroit. I like that they are part of an exclusive organization which traces its Brazilian Jiu Jitsu lineage to the founder of BJJ - Helio Gracie.

No egos here need apply. Great fun for the whole family...

Posted by: numbnutts1967, 7/30/2009

The instructors are the best with our kids. Very patient and knowledgeable. Wouldn't take them anywhere else.

My son enjoys going to the classes there. The teachers work well with the students, young and old.

Posted by: whitebelt101, 7/29/2009

You really cannot compare the other BJJ schools in Michigan to Warrior Way. 3 (soon to be 4) black belts who all got their Braz. Jiu Jitsu knowledge from the original source of the sport...the Gracies. Our main instructor that we are under, Caique, got his black belt from non other than Helio Gracie himself, and just recently recieved his Red/Black belt from RICKSON GRACIE....if you don't know these names, you better do some research son! :)

As far as Muay Thai goes in Michigan, the Midwest, heck, even the country...there isn't even anyone to compare with Matee, his experience and his credentials. Warrior Way is the type of gym you'd expect to find in California. It's a rare treasure to have that much talent in one school in Michigan.

Posted by: njx2000, 7/29/2009

The highest ranking, and most experienced instructors in the state! The fact that students, instructors, and fighters from other schools come to WW is proof that they are the best. Warrior Way is a true Mixed Martial Arts school!!!

Posted by: bjjfiter, 7/29/2009

Best gym in the state, hands down! Their Muay Thai program is taught by a real CHAMPION in the sport from THAILAND...not someone who won a fight somewhere and got a belt. Matee fought in THE biggest events in Thailand and is a legitimate champ. He is also a great teacher and is very friendly and pays attention to ALL his students.

WW's BJJ program is second to none. On any given night, there are 2-3 black belts on the mat, 2-3 brown belts and a bunch of purple and blue belts as well. Not only that, EVERYONE is willing to help out if you have a question. Even if it's your first day, they will make you feel at home and a part of the team.

They are great teachers, and they are very patient with my son. He is learning a lot and practicing it often. They even offer practice four times a week for those with busy schedules, and you get to come when ever you can.

Posted by: MichaelViz, 7/29/2009

Very knowledgeable instructors in striking, grappling, and mixed martial arts. Best school!

Posted by: kidred, 7/29/2009

Warrior Way Rocks!!!!

Posted by: AxCx, 7/29/2009

This gym has more bjj blackbelts than any gym in MI and the one on one interaction between instructors and students is second to none. When it comes to muay thai there is no comparison metee's pedigree is above and beyond anything you would expect to find in the midwest. Whether you want to compete or just want to learn something new, have a little fun and get in shape you cannot beat this atmosphere and quality of training. Check it out you wont be dissapointed.

Posted by: asianchick, 7/28/2009

It is truly the best. People really go to learn and understand the art of muay thai and BJJ and not just for the sake of going to a gym or the gym. What you see is what you get at Warrior Way. You see the best trainors at this gym and you get the same experienced training from them.

Posted by: KIZY, 7/28/2009

this is one of the best decisions i made and i love it. If anyone were to give it a try, i know they'd love it too. you have nothing to lose but so much to gain

Posted by: brandonfrac, 7/28/2009

Posted by: Dans33, 7/28/2009

I have trained at numerous jiu jitsu schools throughout the country, and can tell you that none of them come close to Warrior Way for instructor knowledge, and the friendly supportive atmosphere. After training there for 10 years, I can't Imagine any better choice anywhere!

Quite simply the best martial arts school in the state. Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu and Muay Thai instruction are world class. Both disciplines make you a well-rounded student. A great atmosphere for encouraging respect and self-esteem. It is well worth the long drive. Do yourself a favor and compare to the other schools out there. You won't be disappointed.
